

Why are there different prices for the same product?

The same product may be sold by multiple sellers on the platform, and each seller sets their own price based on factors such as stock availability, delivery time, or ongoing discounts.

You can view all available offers listed under the product and choose the one that best suits your preference for price and delivery.